

Friday, 19 August 2016

10:15	Registration: James Hardiman Foyer Tea / Coffee
10:45	Welcome & Opening Address: Room G010
11:00	Session 1a: Room G010 Steven Ellis (NUIG) Reforming sacred space: the collegiate church of St Nicholas, Galway and the Reformation Yvonne McDermott (GMIT) Galway Augustinian friary: from foundation to demolition Colm Lennon (MU) Corporate clergy and lay society: collegiate churches in early modern Ireland	Session 1b: Room G011 Alan Kelly (TCD) 'For the herbes dyd never growe': The State of Ireland (1515), political discourse and literary conceit Bobby O'Brien (NUIG) The presence and impact of Bishop John Bale in the Diocese of Ossory Brid McGrath (TCD) Unmasking E.S., the author of A Survey of the Present Estate of Ireland Anno 1615
12:30	Lunch: James Hardiman Foyer
13:15	Special Panel Session: Room G010 Shakespeare and Ireland Naomi McAreavey (UCD) Shakespeare on the seventeenth-century Irish stage Emer McHugh (NUIG) Performing Shakespeare in Ireland in 2016: Othello at the Abbey
14:45	Session 2a: Room G010 John Kelly (Ind.) The exactions of a 'minor demon' or the 'service of a faithful countryman'? Collection of cess, pardons and fines by Robert Hartpole, Constable of Carlow, between 1569 and 1571 David Heffernan (Ind.) The "composition for cess" controversy and the position of the Old English in mid-Elizabethan Ireland, c. 1575-84	Session 2b: Room G011 Dimitra Koutla (Aristotle) "It lacketh only inhabitants, manurance, and pollicie": agrarian capitalism and social control in Sir Thomas Smith's "A letter sent by IB gentleman" Kelly Duquette (Boston) Shakespeare's "uncivil kerns": Irish contagion and the emerging British nation-state Alix Chartrand (Cambridge) Tories and thugs: the impact of seventeenth-century struggles against Irish banditry on India	Session 2c: Bridge Seminar Room Deirdre Fennell (NUIG) Family, favour, faction: female presence in the life of Lord Deputy Sir William Fitzwilliam Ann-Maria Walsh (UCD) Countess Alice Barrymore, motherhood, shopping, and the commodification of English civility Felicity Maxwell (NUIG) Dorothy Moore's Irish connections: Protestant networking and social critique in the 1640s
16:15	Wine Reception: James Hardiman Foyer
17:00	Opening Plenary Address: Colm O'hEocha Theatre Professor Mary O'Dowd (QUB) Age as a category of analysis: an agenda for early modern Ireland?
19:00	Conference Dinner Kirby's Restaurant (Busker Brownes), Cross Street Upper

Saturday, 20 August 2016

10:00	Registration Desk Open: James Hardiman Foyer Tea / Coffee
10:30	Panel in honour of Professor Steven Ellis: Room G010 Kieran Hoare (NUIG) From O'Sasnane to Sexton: the making of an early modern urban patriciate family Gerald Power (Metropolitan University, Prague) An English gentleman and his community: Sir William Brabazon and the formation of the "New English" Ruth A. Canning (UCC) 'Tudor frontiers and noble power': the baron of Delvin and the nature of border life in late Tudor Ireland
12:00	Session 3a: Room G010 Brian MacCuarta (Archivum Romanum Societatis Iesu) An Irish layman in Rome in the mid-1590s John McCafferty (UCD) Recycling an island's past for a Global Catholicism: Irish Franciscans in the seventeenth century Raymond Hylton (Virginia Union) Religio-political ferment in, and interconnections between the Dublin and Portarlington Huguenot communities, 1692-1720: a study in causal determinism?	Session 3b: Room G011 Evan Bourke (NUIG) 'The incomparable Lady Ranelagh': Katherine Jones's reputation within Samuel Hartlib's correspondence network Willy Maley (Glasgow) Double Dutch: the Boate brothers and Ireland Marc Caball (UCD) Crossing borders in late Stuart Ireland: the emergence of a middle ground
13:30	Lunch: James Hardiman Foyer
14:10	Session 4a: Room G010 David Roy (UCC) Creating borders in Colin Clouts come home again Raina Howe (NUIG) Tudor Wasteland or Gaelic Fásach? Historical perspectives of an early modern Irish environment Lorna Moloney (NUIG) From Gaelic lordship to English shire: the MacNamaras of Clare	Session 4b: Room G011 Rebecca Hasler (St Andrews) 'Neither to forbear Irish nor English': Barnaby Rich's Anglo-Irish pamphleteering Helen Sonner (Ind.) The Ulster pamphlets of James VI/I reconsidered Caroline Newcombe (Southwestern) How early Irish marital property law influenced the end of Brehon Law	Session 4c: Bridge Seminar Room Diarmuid Wheeler (NUIG) "When the blast of war blows in our ears": military men in Leix and Offaly, c.1547-1580 Matthew McGinty (NUIG) The rise and fall of Sir Conyers Clifford Yoko Odawara (Chukyo) Sir Philip Sidney, the Leicester circle and Ireland
15:30	Session 5a: Room G010 Coleman Dennehy (UCL/UCD) Lawyers in Parliament: examining legal counsel on Irish cases at the Westminster Parliament. Eoin Kinsella (IAPH) Irish Catholic lobbying in London in the 1690s John Bergin (QUB) The career of Dennis Molony (1650-1726), an Irish Catholic lawyer and agent in London	Session 5b: Room G011 Jason McElligott (Marsh's Library) Early modern female book owners: the evidence from Ireland's first public library John Cunningham (Exeter/TCD) The apothecary in early modern Ireland Suzanne Forbes (Open University) A 'lost' pamphlet debate between William Penn and John Plimpton in 1698
16:50	Tea / Coffee: James Hardiman Foyer
17:15	Concluding Plenary Address: Colm O'hEocha Theatre Professor Andrew Hadfield (University of Sussex) Edmund Spencer the Less among the Jacobites		